Everything Peaceful at Virginia League Meeting Held Yesterday in Portsmouth.

Norfolk, Va., November 26 .- The Virginia State Baseball League met at Portsmouth to-day and fixed upon a six, instead of an eight-club, circuit, to be composed of Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Petersburg, Newport News and Rosnoke, dropping Lyncaburg and Danville. Jack Grim fought late in the meeting to have Lynchburg represented in the circuit. It was decided this could only be done in the event of a vacancy, when Lynchburg will be given first choice.

Officers were chosen as follows President, J. O. Boatwright, Danville; vice-president, H. C. Elliott, Roanoke; secretary, Zack Woodall, Richmond; directors, W. B. Bradley, Richmond; W. E. Pritchett, Petersburg; Elmore Heins, R. Pritchett, Petersburg: Elimote freins, Roanuke; Dr. J. R. McCrary, Norfolk; R. A. Bullock, Portsmouth, and James L. West, Newport News. It was decided to open the baseosil leason April 17 and close September 13.

Each club is to submit a proposed schedule February I, and two weeks are to be allowed for consideration be-fere adoption.

Arriving at the Business Men's Asso lation about 1:30 o'clock, and just a w minutes before the meeting cam to a close, Jack Grim, former owner of the Newport News team, applied for the admission of Lynchburg to the Virginia League circuit in 1812.

Mr. Grim presented an application from the Lynchburg people, stating that they were ready to support a club in that city, and that the money due players for last season was in bank and ready for distribution.

It was not until the president of the league ruled that the appearance of Mr. Grim in the meeting would not respen the question of the six-club circuit that he was admitted.

In accepting the presidency, Mr. Boatwright said he was sure that the season of 1912 would be the best in the history of the league, and he asked the co-operation of the directors in his effort to make it so. His report of the last season showed a cash balance of $78 on hand. An amendment was adopted, reducing the number of clubs adopted, reducing the number of clubs from eight to six and making it pos-sible to declare the office of president vacant by a vote of four of the clubs instead of by five.

The agreement for a six-club circuit omposed of the cities now in it, as greed upon at the meeting held in canoke, was ratified.

Those present at the meeting to-day ere: J. O. Boatwright, of Danville; W were: J. O. Boatwright, or Danvine; w. E. Pritchett, of Petersburg; C. A. Shaffer, of Norfolk; W. B. Bradley, of Richmond; A. M. Fuiler, of Newport News; J. L. West, of Newport News; J. L. West, of Newport News; John Trower,

Soon to Be Ended

Delays are dangerous, and, as business demands the withdrawal of The Times-Dispatch dictionary, you have no time to lose in clipping that coupon. Even for the sake of further educating the public the present distribution cannot be continued. In a few days the proposition of supplying the big little bundles of ready reference information bound in limp leather will be abandoned, and the book that is worth $5 will be placed upon the shelves of the book stores, the presentation will end, and the sale at $4 a volume will be started.

You will have to hurry. You will have to hurry of their work, stenographers of Richmond are giving the educational campaign their unanimous support.

The reason for the low average of wages paid the toilers at the typewriters has been given by employers as a lamentable lack of knowledge of the English language, spelling and punctuation on the part of the employed.

The plan which The Times-Dispatch has suggested, and the stenographers are eagerly endorsing, is that each operator who is anxious to better his or her condition obtain the best and handiest work of English ever compiled—the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, Illustrated.

Practical experience has proved that by using the work as an error eliminator perfect copy can be produced, and the argument of the employer that the employer is not worth more than the low salary paid may be successfully refuted. The demand of stenographers for dictionaries is growing hourly, and the result is sure to be more money and better work.

The football season comes to a close locally Saturday, when the Norfolk and Richmond Blues occupy the griditon in their annual encounter. The local soldiers are bent on wiping out the defeat of last year. There is some reason to base a hope that they will. The team is better conditioned and knows more football, which should largely offset the difference in weight. While the two sets of Blue are playing here the Army and Navy will be embertaining the elect of the land on Franklin Field, Philadelphia. As in spevious years, each team is making claims, with the Army probably the popular favorite. Of course, the people-who-dance will be there.
